

American Standard is a prestigious Heating and Air Conditioning company that has been in operation for over 130 years. Their trusted name is synonymous with home comfort. Mattioni Plumbing Heating and Cooling is proud to be an independent American Standard Customer Care Dealer.

What does that mean for our customers?

Being an American Standard Customer Care Dealer means that we uphold certain values when it comes to customer service that set us apart from the rest. Our entire endeavor is centered on ensuring that you choose the perfect system for your home. It begins with a complete detailed analysis of your home energy needs. We do everything from measuring windows to examining your ductwork and assess your personal preferences and needs when it comes to comfort in your home.

Throughout this process, a detailed picture of your home system requirements emerges. We then discuss the options available, including air filtration, temperature control, and humidification. No ordinary company would go to this length to find the right system for your home. It's the hallmark of the American Standard Customer Care Dealer.

The care we put into this process is reflective of our overall commitment to excellence in customer service. Whatever your needs may be, we are determined to not only satisfy them but surpass your expectations at every turn.
